I's not what YOU earn that makes you RICH
but what you save

Then why don't you start saving now? A Dollar in bank is an obstinate thing—it stays put. Can you say as much if it's in your pocket? Does your pocket pay interest—does it give you the self-respect and confidence in the future that a gradually increasing bank account does? The road to prosperity is before you—start saving with a $1 deposit. You'll be surprised to see how the habit grows. So does the deposit.

AT WASHINGTON

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT AND FAMILY DINE AT THE WHITE HOUSE

In the Afternoon They Are Expected to Take Their Customary Horseback Ride—How Others Observe the Day.

Washington, Dec. 24.—The celebration tonight at the Cuban legation of Noche Buena, the Cuban Christmas eve, and the lighting of the great Christmas tree this afternoon at the Austrian embassy, to which were invited a number of close friends of Ambassador, Baroness Hangelmuller and their little daughter were the most formal ceremonies that ushered in a season of social splendor in the capital.

German and Mexican embassies and most of the Latin American legations observed Christmas eve rather than the natal day and these homes of distinguished foreigners were tonight ablaze with lights and animation.

According to the present arrangements the president and his family will spend Christmas day at the white house. The president will attend church services in the morning. In the afternoon, with Mrs. Roosevelt and the children and several friends of the family, the customary horseback ride through the park and northern suburbs will be taken.

Representative Longworth of Ohio, the president's future son-in-law will be one of the family party at dinner. He will leave Tuesday for Ohio, while Miss Alice expects to depart for New York the latter part of the week to arrange for her trousseau.

It is said that among the most interesting presents received at the white house were autograph books from many foreign rulers and statesmen.

In Christmas observances almost all nationalities are represented and the diplomatic corps enthusiastically join in the celebration. Even the children of Sir Chen Tung Liang, Chinese minister, will combine with a dozen other little ones in a celebration. Tomorrow afternoon at a children's party at the Cuban legation, Archie and Quentin Roosevelt will be present. A Christmas tree, bearing gifts, will be a feature.

Vice President and Mrs. Fairbanks, in view of their departure for Indianapolis tomorrow, had a formal dinner today. Formal dinners will mark the Christmas observance in the families of Secretary of State Root, Secretary of the Treasury Shaw and other cabinet officers.

IN HIS PALACE

Costing Five Millions Will Charles M. Schwab Eat His Christmas Dinner.

New York, Dec. 24.—Probably the most elaborate family dinner to be given in the whole country tomorrow will be the feast to which will sit down Charles M. Schwab and thirteen members of his family at his new $5,000,000 palace on Riverside Drive, Seventy-third and Seventy-fourth street. Mr. Schwab expected his new home to be completed by Christmas day, but it is not within two months of completion, owing to labor troubles and structural delays. However, in order not to disappoint his family, Mr. Schwab has arranged for the Schwabs to eat their Christmas dinner in the dining room of the new house, and a feast for kings it will be. Florists were busy tonight decorating the house for the event. After the dinner Mr. Schwab will receive immediate friends and show them the new place.

Among the guests at the dinner will be Mr. Schwab's parents, of Loretta, Pa.

ENJOYING LIFE AT 104 YEARS

Colored Man Near Lisbon Vividly Recalls Early History of Ohio.

Lisbon, O., Dec. 24.—Probably the oldest man in the state of Ohio is Daniel Spire, who is enjoying life at the remarkable age of 104 years at his home near the old Spring Grove camp grounds, in the southern part of Columbiana county.

Mr. Spire recalls vividly the days when he attended school in Lisbon in an old log school house 90 years ago, and when the town was scarcely 12 years old. He also has a distinct recollection of having driven a six-horse team through here 80 years ago on his way through the northern part of the state.

Though colored, Spire was never in slavery, but has long been a prosperous farmer. He lives with his wife, who is 75 years old, and their son in a beautiful country home. He has two sons in the government service in the west.

On an Economic Strack.

Washington, Dec. 24.— Pension Commissioner Warner, in his reorganization of the bureau, has abolished what has been termed the "correspondence section." The 25 clerks will be put at other work. The correspondence will be attended to by the respective divisions and $40,000 annually will be saved.

Election of Directors.

The annual election for ten directors of the Stark County Agricultural Society will be held in the Society's office in the courthouse on Saturday, January 6, from 9:00 o'clock a. m. to 1:00 o'clock p. m. J. H. Lehman, secretary.

FROM CANTON

TWO OF THE TRIO OF THIEVES WERE REGISTERED

Bolt of Silk Valued at $100 Was Stolen from a Massillon Store.
"Fence" May Be in This City.

Massillon, Dec. 24.—Yesterday morning the first shoplifting of the season was reported to the police from the Bee Hive. Some party or parties had stolen a bolt of silk, valued at about $75 or $100 during the early morning hours, soon after the opening of the store for business.

Later the police learned that three men had stopped at the Milleronian, registering the names of Weikel, Wood and Wilson. They left on the 7:30 car for Canton. It was later discovered, and since then all trace of the thieves has been lost. It is thought that the goods were disposed of at some "fence" in Canton.

At the Milleronian two of the men gave Canton as their place of residence. When the robbers appeared at the store one asked a clerk to take him upstairs to see some goods, another engaged a clerk's attention by inquiring the time of day, and the third "copped" the silk.

The police are still working on the case, but nothing more than has been herein given has been discovered by the officers.

PROBATE JUDGES LOSE IN A CASE AT LISBON

Placing of Semi-Colon Contentious in Action Filed by Judge Relative to Fee Law.

Lisbon, Dec. 24.—By sustaining a demurrer to the petition, Common Pleas Judge W. W. Hole dismissed from his court the mandamus suit of Probate Judge Martin, who, with other probate judges in the state, maintains that the state bureau of uniform accounting at Columbus is enforcing an erroneous interpretation of the fee statutes. Judge Martin will appeal the case to the higher courts.

The petition sets out that a semi-colon wrongly inserted does not give the phrase, "per hundred words," its proper application with relation to orders, sometimes 200 or 3,000 words long, which must be journalized for 6 cents. There is also a contention that two certificates transmitted with records of lunacy cases ought to be paid for.

Canton Bridge Company Again Indicted.

Toledo, O., Dec. 24.—Twenty-seven indictments against nine bridge companies and their special agents doing business in this state have been returned by the Henry county grand jury, for alleged violations of the Valentine anti-trust act. Among the companies are the Massillon Bridge Co., and the Canton Bridge Co.

The penalty for the violations is a fine of not less than $50 nor more than $5,000 and imprisonment not less than six months or more than one year, or both.

Gen. Miles Wants Out.

Washington, Dec. 24.—General Nelson A. Miles, former head of the army, has written to the secretary of war asking that he be permitted to retire as military advisor of Governor Douglas, which position he assumed a year ago. It was over this resignation that Miles' opponents in congress forced an amendment to the army bill, prohibiting Miles from drawing his full pay and the compensation of the state to which he was assigned.
